

Welcome to the Crew Guild

The Crew is built on a dedication to serve, support, and nurture the interests and creativity of individuals with disabilities. It aims to enrich the lives of its participants and promote their well-being. We firmly believe that people naturally seek connection, engagement, and challenges that encourage personal growth. Our emphasis is on identifying each individual's strengths and creating opportunities for them to reach their potential, regardless of any obstacles they may encounter. Another remarkable feature of The Crew's mission is the focus on teamwork, empowering others to provide insight and ideas to focus opportunities whenever possible.

Cody's Book Buzz

My next book review is on Godzilla. I have five Godzilla books and they are mostly based on Godzilla movies. I have loved Godzilla since I was a youngster. So in order to talk about the books, I have to talk about the Godzilla movies as well. The first Godzilla movie came out in the 1950s and now we are at 38 different Godzilla movies. I have a lot of those movies. In fact when I was young, I even watched a movie that was in Japanese and it had no English subtitles. I would watch it over and over again because I loved the Godzilla stuff in it. If you look at what I'm wearing in the picture, I have a Godzilla cap, a Godzilla hoodie, Godzilla pants and even Godzilla shoes. Does that not tell you that I'm a fan of Godzilla?

Believe it or not, Godzilla has a star on the Hollywood walk of fame. I have attached a picture to prove it.

As I said before, my books are about some of the different movies. The different monsters in the books and movies are result of radiation from Japan because of the atomic bombs of World War II. And if you don't know anything about Godzilla, he is actually the good guy. He usually comes out of the water at the beginning of the book or movie and goes back into the water at the end.

And even though he does a lot of damage to the streets and buildings, it's because he is chasing bad monsters.

I usually tell you what I like about books and include my dislikes, but with Godzilla, I love everything about them, including the bad guy monsters because they are all so cool. And in the last few years, they have started to come up with Godzilla versus Kong type books and movies. At first, Godzilla and Kong fought against each other, but now they fight side-by-side to kill other monsters. I always look so forward to when a new movie or book comes out because I just love Godzilla.

Tom's Sports Corner

Tom's got Maple Leafs fever and he's spreading it like wildfire! Bursting with excitement, he announced the Leafs snagged the top spot in the Atlantic Division and are currently playing the Ottawa Senators. After four nail-biting games, they've won three and just need one more victory to advance!

Tom's thrilled to report that three of those games went into overtime—with lots of action! He's crossing his fingers and toes for a win in game 5 so they can breeze into round 2.

Next up, they'll face either the Tampa Bay Lightning or Florida Panthers, but Tom's rooting for a round with the Tampa Bay Lightning.

The games have been a rollercoaster of action and scuffles, and Tom's loving every minute of it. He can't stop raving about his star players: Mitch Marner, William Nylander, Auston Matthews, and John Tavares, with Auston Matthews holding the crown as his absolute fave.

Tom's dream? For the Leafs to keep playing like great, as a united front, and skate their way to the Stanley Cup!

Randy's Coffee Cruise

Randy's the ultimate coffee crusader, bouncing from café to café like a caffeinated explorer! This java journey is now officially a routine quest for the perfect brew. Randy loves to spill the beans on his experiences, sharing his unfiltered thoughts on each spot he visits. So, why not pen his musings for all to enjoy? With Randy's keen focus, he'll be rating the brew and, of course, the accessibility of each shop, tailored to his unique needs. We all know coffee taste is as personal as your favorite pair of socks! (all ratings are from Randy and he always has honest reflections on his choices)

Coffee Culture
130 Lochiel St

This was our first visit, as Randy was eager to give it a try! He mentioned that the coffee was decent but a touch too strong for his preference. He rated the accessibility a 3.5. He made allowances for the situation, noting that we discovered a side entrance upon leaving, which we were unaware of before entering or exiting.

The friendly young waitress kindly held the heavy door open when requested as Randy was assisted down the two steps; however, she did not mention the alternative exit .

Next, Randy was all fired up to explore the freshly spruced-up Tim Hortons on Lambton Mall Road, driven by pure curiosity! Since Tim's Coffee is his undisputed favorite, the 5 out of 5 rating was as predictable as his morning brew. He was also tickled pink by the coffee shop's easy access, rolling in like a boss!

LARP

Live Action Role Play

Meet Paul, the king of costume and creator of chaos! He was bursting with pride as he shared me with tales of his LARP (Live Action Role Play) adventures. That's right, folks—Paul's been a Dungeons and Dragons devotee for three magical years! I had to ask a few questions to catch up on his mystical musings.

Every Saturday, from noon to the stroke of midnight, this crew gathers in the enchanted lands of Watford, with anywhere from 15 to 45 fantasy fanatics. It's a full-blown, costume-clad, don't-you-dare-break-character extravaganza. Paul proudly plays a

"Dim-witted Troll," a role he crafted with thrift store treasures. His character might be "dim-witted" but Paul's enthusiasm is anything but!

He also shared tales of "Tiberius," a tavern keeper who moonlights as "Arturo" when the mood strikes. Curious adventurers can join the fun through their Facebook group, MMA (Mixed Medieval Arts), where they post epic videos and snapshots of their quests.

Paul ended our chat with a flourish, showing off some mind-blowing pictures and bragging about his appearance at the Pop Culture Show, where they made paper. Paul's passion for fantasy is as vibrant as his costumes! (next page)
